THE COURTS.—Circuit Court—Judge Melvin.

The Circuit Court resumed its session at the usual hour yesterday morning.

A writ of habeas corpus was issued upon the petition of R. J. Vincent, alleging that he is illegally detained in the custody of the jailor of Ohio county. The hearing was deferred until this morning.

The trial of the case of the State vs. Lawrence Heller and John B. Watt, for selling intoxicating drinks to a minor, was resumed. The case was submitted to the following jury: Caleb Sylvia, H. Dunlevy, Jabez Exley, W. Weisfeldt, W. J. Robb, John Fulton, W. H. Thurber, Jacob Switzer, F. Huseman, John Parker, J. W. Bell, A. T. Garden.

The case of the State v. the same defendants upon another indictment charging a similar offense, was placed upon trial. It was submitted to the jury during the afternoon. The jury failed to agree in both of the above cases, and were discharged until this morning.

The case of the State v. Wm. McManaway, charged with selling liquor to a minor, was tried to the following jury: B. E. Tift, J. C. Alderson, Richard Savage, T. C. Moffat, C. T. Bruce, John Mendel, R. K. Friend, S. Swabacher, C. Dittman, E. Pierson, W. J. H. Bown, Eugene Wells.

Municipal Court—Judge Cramer. The Municipal Court met as usual yesterday morning.

The case of August Weidenschu vs. Anton Yohs was continued by consent.

The case of Alfred Neely vs. Simon Gold was continued at the costs of the plaintiff.

The case of D. W. Brodie vs. G. W. Pamphrey, in assumpsit, was tried to the Court and taken under advisement.

Adjourned until 10 A. M. to day.

Police Court—Judge Cramer. Four cases were before this court yesterday morning, viz:

The cases of Jack Murray and Patrick Gilboy, charged with committing assault and battery upon Frank Edwards, were continued until this morning.

Paul Logomarisimo and A. Costello, peasant merchants, were fined $10 and costs each for creating tumult and disorder on Monday night.

BRIDGEPORT ITEMS.—A revival is being held in the colored Baptist Church with good success, and there is a probability of its continuing for some time.

Jim Williams, colored, who participated in a midnight row some time ago, has since been arrested by Marshal McConaghy and fined $5 and costs. In default of payment he was sent to jail. The matter has since been adjusted, and he is once more at liberty.

The improvements in Kirkwood, under the direction of the City Fathers, are progressing, greatly to the dissatisfaction of a majority of the citizens.

The railing enclosing the school building has about as much architectural beauty as a "worm fence."

The oldest inhabitants are puzzling their brains over the whereabouts of the original course of the brook running from the well-known "Kirkwood spring."

The controversy is getting interesting.

The public school in Bridgeport is progressing finely. Professor Taylor, the Principal, is popular among all classes.

The ladies are preparing for a Thanksgiving supper at the M. E. Church tomorrow evening.

The National Road is now in excellent condition, and it is sufficient snow should fall, the sleighing would be grand.

The planing mill of R. J. Bagg & Sons is busier the present season than for five years past. A great portion of the work got out by this mill is for new buildings in neighboring towns in West Virginia and Ohio.

A number of houses are offered for rent already in Bridgeport, but rents have not been reduced to any extent.

The cool weather is bringing plenty of produce to Bridgeport. Eggs, butter and poultry are plenty, and cheaper than last week.

BARBER POLE STOCKINGS.—We tell the following story upon the authority of a respectable citizen of Bridgeport, who is credited with the reputation of a practical joker:

A drover from Wheeling township (Belmont county) came to grief over a horse, port the other day, and got a "head" put on him. Deceived by a pair of the new style stockings, gracefully displayed from the paternal porch by a belle of that village, he entered and asked for "shave," and to have his hair cut. He succeeded in getting shamed and having his head cut. The girl said she would have overlooked the mistake if it had not been for the ignorance of curves and symmetry in the comparison to barbers' poles. He thinks he will be able to recognize the difference when the milk and bread puddings are removed from his eyes.

BELLAIRE MANUFACTURERS.—We extract the following from a Bellaire letter to the Pittsburgh Leader:

One rolling mill and five glass houses are running on full time. The blast furnace, operated by the same company as the rolling mill, has, however, been idle for quite a time. The coopers at the rolling mill struck for an increase of wages some time since, and were immediately superseded by workmen from abroad at the old prices. This led to no expression of dissatisfaction more emphatic than curses, both loud and deep.

ONE INTO WINNER QUARTERS.—Yesterday our young friend "Dode" Baird downed his pony, Jenny P., in a W store box, stowed her in the lonesome recesses of a palace hog car and lit out for the classic regions of Washington, Pa., where he proposed to put her into winter quarters. The designated quarters are within easy reach of a church and school house, so that although the site is somewhat rural it will not be altogether without city advantages.

HEAD CUT.—A boy named Ote, while at work in the South Wheeling Glass Works yesterday morning, had the back part of his head badly cut by a falling box. A surgeon was called and dressed the wound. Ote is about thirteen years of age, and is a son of Fred Ote, who resides on Eoff, between 35th and 36th streets, Eighth Ward.

THANKSGIVING services will be held in the Fourth Street M. E. Church to-morrow morning. Rev. Kelly will deliver the sermon.

SEVERAL trees were blown down on Jacob street, near 15th street, on Monday night. The trunks were broken off within two feet of the ground.

In such weather as this do not wash the face immediately previous to going out of doors, for fear of chapping.

AT THE BAR OF JUSTICE.—Police items were plentiful yesterday than for some days past. Whether this be the result of the "cold snap" or not, we are not prepared to say. However, a number of offenders appeared before the bar of justice to answer for their misdoings.

Justice Schultz.—This Justice contributed a note to reporters, for the first time since the election. Theodore Bach complained that his son, a boy about ten years old, had been severely kicked by one James Lynch. The boy was employed at the South Wheeling Glass Works, with Lynch as his "boss." He alleges that for some trifling offense Lynch kicked him, and putting his hand behind several of his fingers were badly bruised. The parties compromised the case before coming to trial.

Justice Launder.—Upon complaint of Mrs. John Yancy, who resides in South Wheeling, this Justice issued a warrant for the arrest of a young man named John Connolly, upon a charge of stealing $350 worth of jewelry from her trunk.

Justice Caldwell.—R. J. Vincent was before the above Justice yesterday, to answer a charge of assisting in the attempt of three prisoners to escape from the Ohio county jail. The evidence was not sufficient to detain him, and he was discharged.

Justice O'Keefe.—A Pittsburgh boot-black, who gives his name as Billy Smith, went before this Justice yesterday afternoon and entered an information against Isaac Shields, whom he charged with assaulting him. "Billy" was blacking Ike's brogans in the Opera billiard room, and did not come up to the expectations of his customer in shining them. A quarrel ensued, and Billy says he was handled rather roughly. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Shields.

Justice Gilgley.—The Italian War was renewed before the above Justice yesterday afternoon. Paul Logomarisimo was about to take his departure for sunny France, and his countrymen assembled on Monday evening at their rendezvous on the corner of 16th and Market streets for the purpose of "making a night of it." The festivities were prolonged until a late hour, and broke up in a row. Paul Logomarisimo was charged by Mrs. Julia Costello with assault, and by her husband, Antonio Costello, with assault with intent to kill. Antonio Costello was charged by Paul Logomarisimo with assault and battery. Several interpreters were employed during the hearing, and the testimony is spoken of as very concise and even eloquent. The fluency of language was all thrown away, however, as the cases were compromised.

PERSONAL.—Dr. B. L. Brice, the Eighth Ward druggist, was upon the street yesterday, after being confined to his residence about a week with a touch of the typhoid fever.

Ed. Muhleman will resume his old place in the office of the steamer Andes.

A. J. Bagg and wife, of Bridgeport, and Charles Hersey and daughter, of Bellaire, will to-day take their departure for Columbus, Ohio, to join a party en route for New Orleans. They will be absent several weeks.

Rev. Marling, of Roney's Point, is stopping at the Grant House; Rev. Brown, of Richmond, at the Melrose House.

Robert McDowd, Esq., of Wetzel county, is stopping at the St. James Hotel.

Paul Logomarisimo, who has amassed wealth in the peanut and garlic trade on Market street, is going to tear himself away from us. He bought a ticket to France from Mr. John Balile, ticket agent.

A handsome crayon picture of Manager James Hamilton, on exhibition in Nicoll's window, attracts considerable attention.

John T. Rickaby, agent of the Stoddard combination, will arrive in the city to-day.

STAMPDUTY FACT.—The Inspector-General of steamboats, in his report to the secretary of the treasury, has the following in relation to western steamboats:

"Prior to January, 1865, collisions on the western rivers continued with alarming frequency. The pilot regulations for the management of steamers appeared, in the judgment of the best pilots, to be as perfect as possible, but collisions could not be prevented. Up to this time the signals for passing had been by the bell, there being much opposition among pilots to changing from that time-honored practice of the river to the use of the steam-whistle, now universally employed. The investigations into the cause of these accidents, by the inspectors, developed the fact that the difficulty lay in the fact that the bell not being always heard at a sufficient distance to avoid collision. This being demonstrated, the supervising board immediately changed the rule, and on the first day of January, 1865, the bell passed forever out of use for this purpose. The hoped for result was immediate and complete, and collisions now are of comparatively rare occurrence."

Licensed rivermen are more numerous than generally supposed. St. Louis has 337, Galena 463, Louisville 505, Nashville 193, Memphis 359, Evansville 209, Pittsburgh 703, Cincinnati 534, Wheeling 373, total 4,220.

STANDARD COMING.—The Stoddard Dramatic Combination, which won so many friends in this city last winter, will commence an engagement at the Opera House December 2. It was the universal verdict at the time of their engagement last winter, that a finer company never visited Wheeling. The programme will be as follows: Dec. 2, "Deserter from Life," and "Ici l'on Parle Français"; Dec. 3, "A Breach of Promise," and "Woodcock's Little Game"; Dec. 4, "Americans in Paris," and "One Touch of Nature"; Dec. 5, "The Long Strike," and "Dangerous Joy."

NAIL CITY BALL.—An event long anticipated will take place at Turner Hall this evening—the ball of the Nail City Boat Club. The enterprising gentlemen working the affair up have not been idle, and the ball to-night will probably eclipse any of their former efforts, which have proved very successful. Billy Schaff, the well known oarsman, will be present, and several other prominent Pittsburgh boatmen are expected. Billy Meyer's band will furnish the music. Go early if you want dancing room.

CHIEF OYSTERS.—McCracken, the green grocer, is selling superior oysters at reduced rates. He is the sole agent of the celebrated Stansbury Pioneer brand, and sells "select" oysters at 90 cents per can, or 45 cents per half can. Other brands are sold in proportion. Mr. McCracken claims to sell oysters cheaper than any establishment in the city. Call on him at 1310 Market street, and satisfy yourself.

THEATRE COMIQUE.—There was no improvement in the attendance at this theatre last evening. The performance really deserves better audiences, and Mr. Denier should be encouraged in endeavoring to establish a respectable novelty theatre here. Last night the club manipulations by R. M. Tebault, George Morris' banjo eccentricities, Billy Lewis' song and dance, and Maggie Willett's serio-comic songs, received enthusiastic accolades. All the performers received their share of applause, and everything passed off smoothly.

OVERS FOR THANKSGIVING.—R. T. Ford, No. 1119 Market street, is receiving daily Maltby's celebrated oysters. For stewing and scalloping buy the "A & M" brand; for frying or eating raw buy the "O S M" brand. They are the largest and best flavored oysters in the city. We recommend Mr. Ford to all parties who want a good fresh can of oysters.

A YOUNG man who has just come from the West inquired at a book store yesterday if the "Hanging of the Crane" was the work of vigilantes, and who was "The Crane," anyhow? Who did he "get away with?"

OVERCOATS which are left carelessly in open halls will be in demand soon, if this "cold snap" continues.

MUSIC FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Messrs Adams & Lucas, at 1227 Market street, are already preparing for the inevitable holiday rush for goods in their line. There is not a greater or more acceptable gift than a piano or organ. At this establishment can be found every kind of a musical instrument, from a "mouth organ" to a piano. The firm are agents for all the principle pianos and organs in the market, which are sold at the most reasonable rates. You can buy a good piano at prices varying from $100 to $1,450, or an organ at from $50 to $350. These instruments are sold at terms to suit all. For instance, you can buy either a piano or organ simply by making small monthly payments. In this way many families in limited circumstances can enjoy the luxury of music equally as well as their wealthier neighbors. Those desiring cheap and superior musical instruments should call at 1227 Market street.

River News.

The river was rising slowly last evening, with 6 feet 3 inches of water.

The steamer Courier departed for Parkersburg yesterday morning.

The Mallie Ragon left for Pittsburgh. The Tempest has gone on the docks for repairs.

The steamers Market Boy and Forest City were running as usual yesterday.

The rise so far has brought down no coal. Business about the wharf is as inactive as ever. The usual crowd of river men about the boatstores has disappeared, many of them having gone to Pittsburgh on the Ragon.

The Express will depart for Parkersburg this morning.

The Steamer Messenger will leave Pittsburgh to-day for St. Louis.

The Junata, Capt. C. L. Brennan, will shortly enter the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade.

The wharf is crowded with towboats. Among them are the following: Simpson Hornor, Mary Ann, Sam Parker, John A. Wood, Ben Wood, Charley McDonald, Tom Lysle, Joseph A. Stone, Wm. Stone, Lake Erie No. 1, J. Sharp McDonald
